REPORTS. From the "Java Times" Loss of the "Lucky

MAGASSAR. -- From trustworthy reports 'we learn that the Lucky Star of Siam and bound for Ningpo, was lost on the 26th. January last, about six miles off the island of Wango-

The master, Hugo Scabyr, chief mate Peter C. Boysen, (both Danes) and the crew consisting of nineteen Malays, eighteen Chinamen, two native women and one child have arrived at Boston and had been provided for by H. the Sultan and by the commandant of the station, and were still at said place.

According to advices received from a good quarter, it seems that five Europeans supposed to have belonged to the Danish ship Jupiter Capt. Lorenzen, lost in the straits of Salevei on the 23rd January last, have been murdered by the natives of the island of Loekang Loe, north of Salever.

On receipt of this report steps were immediately taken by the authorities to acrest the culprits who have been peached upon by a na- Incorporated by National Decrees of 7th and 8th tive now in confinement on surpicion. According to the declaration of this person, the victims were murdered soon after landing on the island and whilst they were asleep" after having partaken of some wine which they probably had with them. The corpses were put into the boat which was taken out to sea and let adrift.

To the Editor of the " Daily Press." the statement in your paper of the 23rd. inst. about the passage made by the childers to this Port. Some evil disposed person has sent Singapore, Bangkok, Batavia, Manila, San Fran in a false report in order to injure my ship's re- | cisco. New York, New Orleans, &c., Sydney, putation. The Childers left your Port on the Melbourne, Adelaide, Brisbane, Hobart-town, &c. 27th April and arrived at this anchorage, on he the 9th. May, the Young Lochingar sailed: on the 30th, and anchored here on the: 13th. May, this does not show that she was four days longer than the latter ship as stated in your paper, but on the other hand, a day shor-A. ENRIGHT. .Master ship " Childers."

There is too much cheese paring, going on in steamers hence to Macao. It will not pay, and it is dangerous. Ar the meeting of the gentlemen awateurs which took place at the theatre on Monday last: Mr. Pollard, on behalf of himself and committee men, made a statement o the following denormand effect. "It had eser been the the aim of both himself and colleagues to give every inducement to aroutes visiting than colphy, and it had only been in cases where it was ab-them the use of the theatre, that it had ever ' been refused. It must be remembered that "the whole of the scenery had to be painted "in the body of the building, and it often became necessary to postpone a performance to to as much as three weeks after the evening bad originally been fixed upon. In conseovence of this it was impossible at times to comply with requests for the use of the "theatre. When such applications had been made the committee had invariably referred "them to the executive, who always gave "an affirmative reply when practicable." Mr. Pollaid must have fancied that he was engaged in the ingenious occupation of gammoning a jury whilst the judge was snoozing. We take the most serious objections to his statement. A nice set of pieces verily did the amateurs produce if the course of the past season to justify them in requiring the body of the theatre to paint scenery on during the entire period of it! Why until the production of the burlesque their pieces were of the most ordinary grade, and certainly could not have required half the scenery which was left over from the previous season. To be sure they did "do" a new drop scene, apparently for the purpose of occupying the floor for it would disgrace a barn , wall : the old one was far better. But let the reader observe, the only pretext put forward for refusing the use of the build-

Well certainly, we must say the adage applies o Mr. Pollard by its converse with singular force and effect, namely that "a person who is Hongkong, are prepared to grant Policies, paygood at making excuses is good for nothing, able at any of the following Posterior force and effect, namely that "a person who is else." This daubing pretext is his best, his only excuse, and a precious bad one it is. We are happy to find him such a poor hand at the art of making excuses, and taking the adage, for our text, his failure is just what might have been anticipated. He must expect this absurd excuse to do him as much service as the shake of the head of the player in The Critic; that is to say, it will imply anything the imagination can conjure up. Does b mean to say, that this dawbing idea will palliate the bad faith practised on Monsieur Debarr, who having secured the refusal of the site, yielded his privilege to the Amateurs in consideration of the use of their building on completion, and had to wait for some months, in fact lintil the season was over before he got it? Does this painting pretext explain the attempt to squeeze $75 permight out of Mrs. :Greig as the current expenses of the house, which are but $17? Does it explain or palliate the conduct of the Amateurs to the Envlors? One or more office bearers of the Amateur association voluntarily and spontaneously promised them the use of the theatre as often as required and then after stating that repairs which took three days to effect would occupy as many weeks kept them waiting six /weeks for the use of the theatre for three nights? Does it explain the fact that after the Faviors left. the theatra was invariably refused to every arliste.
